D. S. Hill Was Slugged, Robbed

Two Men Held on Charge—Car Recovered Undamaged After Hill Was Robbed

County Commissioner D. S. Hill was sdlugged and robbed near Amarillo Friday evening. He lost his watch and billfold, and after he was dumped into the ditch along a country road northeast of Amarillo, his car was taken, but was discovered in Amarillo Saturday undamaged.

Mr. Hill states that he was at a paint and body works on West 6th Street when he was engaged in conversation by two men. As he started toward town, he asked if they wished to ride. One of them said he had been looking for his wife, and asked Mr. Hill where he was going. Mr. Hill stated that he was driving to a machinery company north of Amarillo, and the men replied that they wanted to go that way.

It could not have been later than 6:30 o'clock, states Mr. Hill. He does not know what happened, but when he regained consciousness, it was dark; he was lying in a ditch, his hat gone; and blood was on his head where he had been hit. His left eye and left side of his face were badly bruised.

He had no idea where he was, but could see a glow of lights and started to walk in that direction. He finally reached the highway. Cars and trucks passed, but none would stop. Finally a bus came by, and the driver stopped. Mr. Hill had enough change in his pocket to pay his fare to Amarillo. He arrived at the police station about 1 o'clock Saturday morning, and told his story.

One man was picked up Saturday, and the other one Monday. The car was recovered Saturday. Both men confess to having been with Mr. Hill. They are said to have served time in Kansas, and both were recently fired as taxi drivers in Amarillo. The grand jury of Potter county heard Mr. Hill's story Tuesday.

County Teachers Association Heard Speaker Thursday

"The loyalty of the people of the Philippine Islands to the United States after Japan's attack upon the islands can be traced to the work done by the American teachers who were sent there by the United States Government," said Mr. Bienviedo N. Santos in an address to the Randall County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association Thursday night at the Methodist Church.

Continuing in his informal talk, Mr. Santos declared that the cooperation and loyalty of his people, which has been so entirely different from that of the peoples of the Dutch, British, and French possessions in the Far East, has been a result of an association in which the Americans and the Philippines have worked together for years as equals.

Mr. Santos was the dinner speaker for the spring meeting of the Randall County unit of which Miss Miss Novella Goodman is president. About one hundred people attended the meeting; they were the teachers of Randall County, and their special guests included members of the Board of Directors of the Canyon Independent School district.

Mr. Santos was introduced by President J. A. Hill who remarked that so far as he knew this was the first time that a native of the Philippines had ever been a guest of Canyon and the first time that many of those present had had an opportunity to hear a Philippino speak.

Complimenting the speaker, the place cards for the dinner were in the form of palm trees. These were provided by Mrs. Hester Gates Morgan of the Art Department. The dinner was served by the women of the Methodist Church.

"Story of the Canyons"-- Pageant Production Tonight

"The Story of the Canyons," a Pageant in Dance, Song, and Lore is to be presented by the Department of Physical Education for Women of West Texas State College at 8:15 p. m. The performance under the direction of Oma Ford and Ruth Cross, members of the Department teaching personnel will be given in the main auditorium of the Administration Building.

The pageant gives a kaleidoscopic view of the moods and color associated with the Palo Duro Canyons, one of the most surprising natural beauty spots in the Southwest.

The skillful blending of music, lighting, dancing, and acrobatics heighten the dramatic impression given by the three scenes of the entertainment, each of which portrays a particular phase of Canyon life.

Scene I, inspired by the untouched beauty and grandeur of the Canyon consists of the Dance of the Eagles, a Landslide scene, Thorn and Fang, the Dance of the Rattlers, a weaving, sinuous dance done chiefly with the arms. Continuing in the same vein, but with a slower tempo is the portrayals of the seasons: Jack Christmas Cedars, Bunnies, Old St. Nick and his Reindeer, a March Blow, Summer Flowers, Frogs, and the Brown Owls.

Scene II, in a lighter, more sentimental mood, shows a day in the life of the Indians. Beginning with Indian games and feats, it includes the Hunters, a lilting Dance of the Clouds, the Moon Dance, by the maidens of the tribe who are dressed in white doeskin, a vivid On the Warpath scene, and last a moonlight love scene. The entire tribe sitting around the dying embers of the fire look up to a sharp ledge where a lone sentinal stands, and as they listen, the clear sound of a flute softly echoes through the camp. As the sound dies away the guard begins to sing Indian Love Call, and as he sings his Indian bride comes up the path to meet him, joining in his song.

The hardy outdoor life of the cow puncher is the keynote of the last scene. The yarn-spinning, hustling life of the Cow Camp, a Dawn Storm, the Remuda, and Off to Work comprise this realistic picture.

The Epilogue directed by Frances Bright is a rendition of Old Glory by the Men's Chorus

Mrs. E. B. Fee has purchased the B. T. Johnson property just north of the post office.

Lienholders Now Agree to Take $290,000 for the 15,500 Acre Property

No action was taken on the question of the debt against the Palo Duro Park at the meeting of the Panhandle Park Committee held Friday in Amarillo. Dr. L. F. Sheffy attended the meeting.

F. A. Emory of Chicago, representing the lienholders on the property, has offered to cut the debt from $579.000 to $290,000. He has the offer before the Texas State Park Board, members of the legislature, and presented it to the Panhandle Committee Friday.

It was assured that no action would be taken in Austin, and the Panhandle committee did not feel like trying to raise this amount of money against the 15,500 acres of land in the Palo Duro Park area.

Notes against the land will mature this year, states Mr. Avery, and it is assured that unless the debt is paid off that foreclosure proceedings will be started. If the land goes back to private ownership, no one knows what will become of the playground area.

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell Invited To Attend FBI Training School Course . . .

Goes to Washington, D. C. Friday Upon Invitation of J. Edgar Hoover

SHERIFF M. E. CANTRELL

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell will leave Friday for Washington, D. C., where he will attend a session of the FBI-National Police Academy. Sheriff Cantrell was invited to attend this course of intensive training which is given to state police officials from over the nation. It is the same course as given to FBI agents, with the exception that state laws, rather than federal laws, are stressed during the study.

The objective of the course is to train local officers in every phase of crime detection. FBI realizes that the success of its work depends very largely upon qualified local officers who give full co-operation to federal officers on any crime. Due to the diligence of Mr. Cantrell in giving all possible aid to FBI in the past, he was honored by this invitation. Only 48 men are trained in each class, with three groups being called to Washington during the year.

The invitation to Mr. Cantrell came personally from J. Edgar Hoover, head of FBI. The government contemplates a new crime wave following the war. New crimes are expected, and therefore, local officers are being trained to work with federal officers on such crimes as may develop. Before the invitation was received, a FBI agent came to Canyon and made a very careful check on Mr. Cantrell, of his private and official life.

Mr. Cantrell presented the invitation to the Commissioners Court, and it was unanimously agreed that it should be accepted. This training period comes at the best possible time of the year for the Sheriff to get away. The car license rush has passed; the tax assessing is largely over; three qualified deputies are in the Canyon office, and one in South Amarillo. Sheriff Bill Adams of Potter County and members of the Highway Patrol urged Sheriff Cantrell to accept the invitation, and all of them offered full cooperation with the deputies if an emergency should arise while he was in Washington.

Mr. Cantrell states that he will return to look after the affairs of his office as soon as the special training course ends. This course does not contemplate that the men who take it shall go into FBI, but shall continue in their local capacities, working with the federal agents on cases which develop in their areas. The invitation is a distinct honor to Sheriff Cantrell, and just recognition of his ability as a peace officer.

Work Will Soon Start on Hiway Through Canyon

Many citizens are wondering about work being done along the highways, believing that the turf is being purposely removed at places along the highway between Canyon and Amarillo.

George Hodges of the maintenance division states that this work is being done to improve the highway. The turf is not being removed deep enough to kill the grass. After a good rain, the grass will soon cover all of these places, states Mr. Hodges.

Work will soon start on the streets of Canyon which were taken over by the highway department. The pavement needs repairing in several places along Fourth Avenue.

Red Cross Final Count Goes to $9,396.88 Says Chairman

The Randall County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been presented a Certificate of Honor by the American National Red Cross for "distinguished achievement in the 1945 War Fund." The Certificate, which may be seen at the Red Cross work room, is signed by Basil O'Conner, chairman of the American Red Cross and O. M. Chester, chairman of 1945 War Fund.

H. F. Keisker, manager of the Midwestern Area, writes T. V. Reeves, Randall County Chairman, "Your chapter can be justly proud of having conducted a most successful Red Cross War Fund. It reflects careful planning, as well as many hours of hard work by your loyal volunteers.

"It is a privilege to transmit the enclosed certificate of honor and War Fund Chairman's citation which have been earned by your chapter. The certaificate is in recognition of your chapter's distinguished achievement. The citation is in acknowledgement of your additional personal contribution."

Mr. Reeves states that all the credit goes to the generous people of Randall county, who have given a full "Texan's share" to help their men and women all over the world. He stated also that anyone who still wishes to help may do so and the county will receive credit.

Yesterday the total contributions of Randall County to the War Fund amounted to $9,396.88. There were 992 donors.

To the Jowell community, with O. M. Scott as chairman, goes the honor of having had its report in first, with 100 per cent contributions from its citizens.

The Wesley-Fairview community made the largest per donor contribution, there being 46 donors who gave $713. Emil Schaeffer was chairman.

In the Ralph community, Ross Craig was chairman, and there were 54 donors.

W. E. Bennett was chairman for the Stone-Park area, and there were 83 contributors.

The Highland community had George E. Mason, one of the oldest workers, as its chairman. There were 37 donors.

Because there were so many different places where contributions could be made, and so many contributors in Canyon, it is not yet possible to state exactly how many contributions were made in the town. Special thanks are extended to the First National Bank, W. J. Wooten, Mrs. Berl Mayfield, Guy Harp, D. A. Shirley, and their assistants for their help in receiving the contributions of Canyon people. Thanks is extended also to the Junior Red Cross members, and to all the organizations which helped to make Randall County's Fund so large. Every citizen can be proud that he lives in one of the honor counties in Texas.

JUSTICE TO RAILROADS

Canyon citizens are amazed to see the constant stream of trains shuttling back and forth on the Santa Fe. We realize that these trains are loaded with war goods, material and men. When victory comes, the railroads of America will have achieved a major role in this victory. Without the railroads, American troops would never have been able to reach the battlefields, or have been supplied on time. Our factories would never have produced materials for our armed forces, and for our Allies.

Railroads have been under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission for years. This commission has held the railroads in line, and has rendered a fine service to the public. Everyone thought that all was peace and harmony. All rates, agreements, and operational problems have been approved by the Commission, in which the public has had confidence.

That did not suit the meddlers in Washington. Relations were too calm and serene. The railroads and the commission were seemingly doing too good a job in their part of winning the war.

So here comes the Attorney General who filed a suit against the railroads because of the agreement which had been approved by the Commission. The question is, shall the Commission still have charge of operating the railroads, or shall the Justice Department be free to jump in and muddy the waters when some ambitious young attorney wants to make a name for himself?

Just at a time when the railroads were harrassed by unusual operational problems, officials have had to defend themselves against this unjust attack from a department of government which should be in an advisory capacity of the ICC, rather than trying to overrule the policies of ICC. This seems to be the way in Washington, establishing overlapping agencies, so that the public knows not whither to turn, or who is the boss.

Representative A. L. Bulwinkle has introduced a bill which seeks to clarify the situation. This bill will definitely restore all powers to ICC, thus eliminating the present confusion. If ICC wants advice from the Justice Department, it is free to call upon this department for legal advice. If any railroad gets out of line, ICC could call upon the Justice department to prosecute the offending railroad.

It looks as if the rule of reason should be restored in Washington.

If the Justice Department knows of any violations, why did it not call attention to ICC for correction, rather than haul the railroads into court, killing valuable time, and taking the time of hundreds of executives at a time when all of them were working day and night to feed the war machinery of the United Nations?

Frankly, the whole mess smells of politics, and dirty politics at that.

The News has always been of the opinion that Stalin had great interest in the East, and would some day step in to recover the territory which the Japs took away from Russia. Renouncing the Jap-Russo treaty this week paved the way. This may explain the rather slow progress which the Russians have been making against Germany. It has been reported for months that Stalin has kept a big army watching the Japs. Maybe he has been shifting troops from Germany to get ready for this occasion. What Stalin is doing, and what he contemplates is pure guess work. Stalin allows no military observation by the United Nations. He may have told Roosevelt and Churchill what he intends to do, but he has told no one else. Since Stalin made Roosevelt and Churchill come to him for their meetings, it is unlikely that he told them much regarding his plans. He holds the trump card and will play it very carefully.

If you scan the want ads of a big daily newspaper, you will find that workers are the only kind of labor wanted. We need production. The administration has promised 60 million jobs after the war. If this is true, salesmen will be in great demand. Every machine or article of necessity, as well as gadget which may be developed, will have to be sold. People will not buy just anything, as they are doing today.

General Pershing told the Allies in 1918 that the war should not stop until the German people were made to feel the horrors of war. He was over-ruled when the Kaiser quit his command and sought refuge in Holland. This led most Americans to believe that the Germans would not stand for the destruction of the homeland. But 1945 is different from 1918. Hitler has raised a breed of savage outlaws who will fight until the bitter end. They have no regard for Germany's past record of achievement, or for the arts and culture of the nation in the past. They like to see blood flow, and have only one thought, supremacy of Hitler and his henchmen. That being the case, the United Nations are giving Germany just what it deserves. Much to the surprise of most Americans—it was predicted months ago that the fanatical followers of Hitler would see Germany wrecked and ruined, with small bands engaging in guerrilla warfare before Germany was finally conquered. Few American believed this report six months ago. General Eisenhower made such a statement last week. This is entirely different from his prediction of victory in 1944. It looks now that the long range prediction of six months ago was to be true.

The French are a thrifty people. After Hitler got through plundering the nation, there was probably little left of food value to the Germans. Our American troops liberated France. The thrifty French went to work, producing something that they could sell to Americans. The lend-lease idea does not appeal to the Frenchman. He wants things coming his way. So in order to get quick returns for his labor, the Frenchmen set to work making a ware that Americans—or at least, too many Americans—delight in. As a result 9,000 cases of cognac arrived in America last week. The liquor will bring real money, top prices, since Americans have money to spend, and are willing to buy booze at top prices. The fact that the nation's liquor bill last year amounted to $54 per capita is no good advertisement to conditions in the nation. If you will consider the millions of children who are too young to drink liquor, and eliminate millions of adults who have better judgment than to burn up their insides with the dope, you will see just how much liquor was really consumed by those who do drink.

A lot of Washington bureaucrats believe that it is a good thing for the nation to be punished by shortages. America is supposed to be at hard work, according to these bureaucrats—but just try and find work clothes. There is an unexcusable shortage of this necessity. When a group of inexperienced bureaucrats attempt to regulate industries which have been operated by men with years of training, the government goes haywire. That's the reason that the government red tape is so repulsive to the average American. The fellow to impose the red tape has not the slightest idea of its far reaching effects.

Our American troops have found Hitler's hidden treasure in a mine near Berlin. Billions of dollars in gold, American, French, English, and money of other European nations were accidentally discovered in a 2100 foot mine. Art treasures were likewise uncovered. It seems that the predictions of last year were coming true. Hitler was then pictured as determined to fight to the last German, and that he would have plenty of wealth hidden away for future use, if he managed to survive.

Assistant President Jimmy Byrnes has quit. He was peeved at the president for withdrawing political support to his candidacy for vice-president. Byrnes went to the convention feeling that he was certain of the presidential nod. Politics does strange things. Roosevelt was more interested in his own political fate than he was in the fate of Byrnes, Wallace or any of the other ambitious politicians. This resignation caused the defeat of the man-power bill. The senate was lukewarm on the bill at this late period of the war, and killed it when it was learned that Byrnes had resigned. Senators were particular in whom it vested such great powers.

Every town is interested in securing an air port. Sponsors of feeder lines are getting busy. But they are not the only people who will soon be active in air travel. The big lines will be after these feeder lines in order to keep their big planes operating at full capacity. In addition to these, the railroads and bus lines are not going to remain idle and see their traffic pulled away from them after the war. All means of transportation is being taxed to the limit these days, but the future is another story. Furthermore, some of these days we shall have fresh fruits and vegetables delivered in Canyon from all parts of the continent by plane on the same day that it was harvested. Distribution has always been the bottleneck of this kind of business. The plane will solve it.

Army officers are worried. It is reported that the brass hats who have decorated the war department throughout the war have a plan for the post-war period. This plan calls for a large standing army, but a very small air force. While we all admit that the infantry is the one branch of service which finally has to go in and clean up the dirty mess of war, yet we would have lost this war without the air force. The airmen removed the obstacles for the infantry. Perhaps the secret is out in time to save the air forces for the post-war period, in spite of the brass hats.

Switzerland and Sweden are alarmed. Both nations have doubled their guards along their borders. They are going to see to it that Nazi criminals do not slip into their territory and cause them grief. The Kaiser fled to Holland in 1918. The Allies were too polite to demand his return to stand trial as a war criminal. A few thousand airplanes dropping bombs on the haven to which Hitler might escape would be very destructive and very embarrassing to the neutral nation which sought to harbor him.

Any peace offer from Japan now means a booby trap seeking to save the face of the unholy war lords. Only genuine unconditional surrender will be tolerated. The world can get along without the murderers and robbers of Japan and Germany.

EXTRA! A printer drifted in, and we did not hire him! Can you imagine that? He was the first printer at large that we have seen in years. Why? One smell of his breath at long range was sufficient.

Ellis Is Guest at District Meeting Held on Campus

"No community or individual can be safe so long as any person in it is unhealthy," declared Dr. A. Caswell Ellis, when he spoke to the District Board of Managers and School of Instruction meeting at W. T. last Wednesday.

Dr. Ellis showed how the P. T. A. and other organizations have helped the state by championing the teaching of home economics and shop work, the establishment of school lunch programs and the improvement of school libraries. He then pointed out that there is still much to do before Texas health and Texas schools will reach a standard worthy of the wealth and resources of the state. He explained how parents and teachers working together can bring about better vocational and educational guidance for boys and girls, and showed how such a thing will actually save money to state and individuals in the long run.

Mrs. L. G. Byerley, State Vice-President, told the workers that "Many of our youth problems are those of parental delinquency" and declared that Texas parents cannot expect the schools to make good citizens of children who are not well taught and well cared for at home.

Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, president of Eighth District presided throughout the day. The Grade School P. T. A. of Canyon was hostess to the visitors, and West Texas State College cooperating in furnishing the Assembly Room of the Science building, and the College Trio and Anita Davis and Miss Marion Miller who furnished music for the luncheon. There were about fifty out of town officers present.

Lots of Hot Water With Natural Gas

Hot water spells freedom to the housewife . . . freedom from the old-fashioned tea kettle and from the tyranny of an uncertain supply. Hot water makes light work of laundry, dish-washing, cooking, and cleaning, as well as baby-care and health and beauty routines. Every household can afford the luxury of WATER HEATED BY NATURAL GAS. The extra economy and satisfaction of an AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER soon pays for the cost. After the war, look for the embodiment of new ideas in the science of water-heating by gas, and make your plans now to enjoy these benefits.

"The Chapel and Its Uses" was the topic of discussion Monday afternoon when President J. A. Hill invited the ministers of the town and representative students and faculty members to give their ideas about the proposed building.

Architect Macon Carder was present and showed drawings of tentative floor plans and front elevations.

Brake Testing Will Start on 15th of April

Starting April 15 and continuing until June 1, the law enforcement officers of this vicinity will cooperate in a program sponsored by International Association of Chief of Police to ensure safer driving.

This program is stressing particularly good brakes. It is being persued at the personal request of President Roosevelt to the union as a whole and specifically from a survey of accident reports of 1944 which show that 30% increase in accidents has been bue to mechanical failure.

All enforcement officers may check brakes on passenger cars only. Testing will be by simple procedure which will reveal if brakes are bad but will not be thorough enough to determine the degree.

This program is not to be confused with the Safety Lane program. Cars will not be stopped indiscriminately. There will be no waste of rubber, gas or time in the testing.

Cars will be stopped in traffic under 5 conditions only: 1. Every vehicle involved in accidents. 2. Every vehicle stopped for speeding violations of any kind. 3. Every vehicle running through traffic signs. 4. Every vehicle running through traffic light. 5. Every vehicle showing any of the following unusual stopping movements a. operator of vehicle reaching for emergency; d. front or back end swerving on dry pavement; c. brakes chattering or making any noise; d. car failing to stop properly at intersections; e. driver being forced to dodge traffic because he cannot stop; f. single wheel on car sliding.

Highway patrolmen are insistent that this program is for the safety of the people and is in no way intended to enforce inconvenience or delay upon the drivers.

Eagle's Tale Holds High Honors

Judges' Decision Evaluates Paper With State's Best

Rating as one of the State's leading high school papers in its class, Canyon High School's "The Eagle's Tale" has for the third time won the "Award of Honor" given by the Interscholastic League Press Conference.

"This award is a recognition of consistent good quality in all phases of your school paper and sets your paper out as one of the best school papers of Texas," is the comment of the judges.

Exceeded only by the award of Distinguished Merit, the Award of Honor in journalism is the second highest award conferred by the Interscholastic League Press Conference.

Delegates from every press club enrolled in the I. L. P. C. are invited to Austin May 3 and 4, to discuss the following subjects: Originality in choosing editorial subjects; the gossip column; creative assignments; leads and how to make them interesting; projects that contribute to the life of the school as well as stimulate reader interest in the school paper.

Five statewide journalism contests will be held in connection with the conference.

GOSSIP

Have you ever heard a rumor about someone or something and you know it's not true, but still you keep thinking and wondering about it till you talk yourself into believing it? You yourself have undoubtedly done this a number of times without thinking of the heartbreak or sorrow this can bring. You may even have been the victim of slander, and you know from personal experience that it has scarred you and your reputation for life.

People love to talk and the topic of conversation is usually other people. This can be the quickest way known to mankind for ruining a good reputation.

If you are one of these countless millions who gossip, remember, you, too, can be the object of slander. You can forget a rumor as easily as not, but you can't forget the grief it brings every day to its victims.

—by Leroy Hutton.

"PROCRASTINATION IS—"

"I don't believe I'll get this lesson tonight. I'm so tired and besides that I haven't read the funny paper and I have to know what happened to "Mickey Mouse!"

Have you ever made such a statement? Are you guilty of putting your lessons off until they stack up so high they look hopeless? Surely putting things off doesn't ease one's conscience or help improve one's knowledge of subjects important to the development of one's mind. Usually it takes twice as long to think about doing something as it actually takes to do it.

Next time you dread doing some lesson, just start right in without first thinking about how hard it will be and before long you will complete the task and your worries will be over.

—By Betty Ann Miller.

Do they call it puppy love because it's the beginning of a dog's life?

Canyon High School received the following post card last week from one of our graduates:

Netherlands East Indies
March 24, 1945

"Hi Kids,

Just a line to tell the kids of CHS 'hello.' Am stationed on a typical South Sea island, complete with bugs and island beauties. Dorothy Lamour was never like this. We had some visitors from Tokyo who dropped in and left a few bomb craters not long ago. They didn't stay long though. Could you tell me if any CHS graduates are in this part of the world? My CHS ring has sure been in a lot of places.

Sincerely, Harry C. Hickerson."

T-5 James B. Speer, Jr., is now near Ipswich, England. He is in the Laboratory Technician Corps and has crossed the Atlantic five times. He is the son of Supt. and Mrs. J. B. Speer.

Johnson Assumes Job As Janitor

J. L. Johnson from Breckenridge, Texas, has filled the position as janitor of Canyon Grade School formerly held by I. M. Steen.

Mr. Johnson has been employed at Pantex Ordinance Plant in Amarillo for the past year and before taking that position he was in the advertising business in Breckenridge.

His wife and two children, Bobby, fourteen, and Joyce, nineteen, are living in Breckenridge.

Animal Lovers Love Not All Creatures

Eek! A mouse! And here are some other animals which people dislike and the reasons (?):

Marilyn Johnigan—wolves, because they are dangerous!

Harold Prichard—skunks, because their perfume is not from Paris.

Mrs. Kate Donnell Brewster—an octopus! I'd surely hate to meet up with one face to face in a dark alley. Just imagine all those arms reaching out for you.

Billy Thurmon—weasles, because they sneak around too much.

Mrs. Dan Sanders—mice, because they gnaw holes in my cheese.

Vernon Ruggles—foxes, because they catch chickens.

Alvin Strem—anteaters. They look to much like elephants not to be.

Mrs. Emma Gene Jackson—cats because they are sly and jump upon the table and beds.

Mr. I. H. Hollabaugh—bears, because I don't like their hugs.

Foods Class Sees Film on Tomato

In connection with their study of foods, homemaking I students witnessed a forty-five minute moving picture, "The History of the Tomato," in fourth period classes Monday in the Canyon High School auditorium.

Both sections of this class are beginning to study vegetables, and the girls have been encouraged to plant vegetable gardens.

Several homemaking II students also saw the film. Mrs. Ewell Fowler is head of the department.

Seniors Produce Comedy Farce

Total Receipts Add $246 Amount for School Gift

Total proceeds from the senior play, "My Cousin From Texas," Friday night amounted to about $246, with approximately 645 people attending the performance.

Net funds after taxes and royalty are deducted will buy a gift for the school.

"I am deeply grateful for the cooperation of the senior class and of our many friends who helped to make the play a success. The presentation of the play was the source of much pleasure and satisfaction to me," said Mrs. Dan Sanders, sponsor of the class. Miss Birdie Cleo Crabtree and Mrs. Sanders directed the play.

Barker Addresses Spanish I Class

Mrs. J. D. Barker, who recently made a trip to Chihuahua, Mexico, spoke to the Spanish I Club at their semi-monthly meeting Friday afternoon.

In the account of the trip, Mrs. Barker included facts about the geography, inhabitants, customs, and industry of Mexico. In the course of her tour there, she visited the home of Pancho Villa, who was a celebrated Mexican military leader.

During her lecture, she had on display souvenirs which she brought back with her. These included a letter knife and heron made of horn, silver costume jewelry, a pair of nylon hose, a woven Indian blanket, Indian dolls, and other small items.

Small Plainly States Need for Restraint

Mrs. Dan Sanders, Spanish teacher, was telling the Spanish class about hearing a lecturer relate to his audience the customs and characteristics of a foreign country. One of the things that particularly appealed to the class was that the people of this foreign country greet each other with an embrace rather than a smile, cordial greeting, or a friendly handshake.

After a hearty laugh by the entire class, Geraldine Small, sophomore, remarked, "Well, it certainly wouldn't do for us to greet each other that way at school. We would never get anything done but love each other."

A MILITARY SECRET

The men are all untrue and flirty;
They'll tell you they'll love you through life.
If a girl treats them just a bit dirty,
She will not get to be his wife.

Men will try to pet you and kiss you,
And will tell all the girls the same lies,
More than any poor creature can listen to,
Many more than the stars in the skies.

You might have been some man's baby;
He thought no more of you than dust.
There is not a man out of eighty
That a poor little girl can trust.

—Bobby Scrugs, eighth grade.

Freshmen Sponsor Fourth CHS Youth Center Recreation Night

Activities Will Carry Out Informality in Program

Dancing and table games are again to be the feature entertainment at the Canyon High School youth center to be held tomorrow night in the high school gymnasium. Members of the freshman class are in charge of arrangements under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mary Weeks.

Decorations are to be carried out in white and the informal idea will predominate.

Chairmen of the preparation committees are: Frances Standley, food; Valeta Haines, registration; Joan Morton, decorations; Max Bellah, music; Guy Brant and Wayne Davis, general committee.

by Frances Harp

Members of the volley ball squad will take part in the pageant put on by the physical education department of West Texas State College tonight. They are participating in the high jump, broad jump, and some Indian games.

Football practice began Monday. Equipment was issued and eighteen boys came out. Coach Milton Sanders said, "The young hopefuls had plenty of fire, drive, and determination, and there are great possibilities for a successful football season."

Looks as if Canyon High did some high jumping and some fast running at the Interscholastic League Track Meet last Saturday.

Between the wind, sun, and G. I. haircuts, our athletes really look sharp.

Did You Know That—

Harold Prichard and George Schaeffer are taking flying lessons?

Don Standley has red hair?

One is supposed to keep his eye on the flag when standing at attention?

Beginning next week there will only be six more weeks of school? (Only five for the seniors)?

Ellen Sanders plays the pipe-organ and Mrs. Floyd Dunsworth plays the piano?

There are about five thousand books in the Canyon High School library?

Mrs. Emma Gene Jackson has seventeen science students in her classes?

There are seventy-four seventh graders?

An average of four hundred students eat in the Canyon Public School lunchroom each day?

April 21 is San Jacinto Day?

The two music teachers, Mrs. Glenn Dowlen and Mrs. Ray McReynolds, together have seventy-two piano and voice students?

Grade Notes

Mrs. Robert Orton's first grade gave a party last week in which the Blues entertained the Reds. Two visitors were Raymond Summers and Curtis Strout.

Claire Mae Hogge of Mrs. Roscoe Davis' second grade withdrew and moved to Spokane, Washington.

Mrs. A. K. Goodman's third grade has begun work on a spring program for Mother's Day.

Starting a contest for the Seventh War Loan Drive is Mrs. H. P. Doughty's third grade who chose sides, with the losing side giving a picnic to the other side.

Doris Bourn and Bobby Downs of Mrs. A. K. Goodman's third grade and Alice Gresham of Mrs. L. M. Cousins' fourth grade were out of school last week because of illness.

Moving to California is Charlene Cobb of Mrs. H. P. Doughty's third grade.

Mrs. L. M. Cousins' fourth grade began achievement tests for each student Tuesday.

Students of Mrs. W. E. Miller's sixth grade chose their teams for basketball intramurals last week. The teams were:

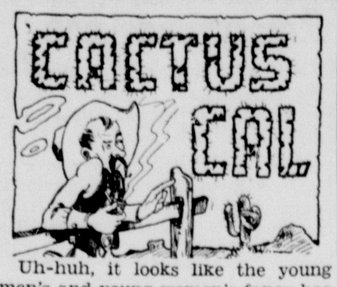
Captain: Billy Carl Martin; players, Robert McClendon, Stanley Lair, and Stanley Schaeffer.

Captain: Jack Bonds; players: Clyde Root, Don Stroup, Arcie Phelps, and George Wesley.

Captain: Garland Butler; players: Thomas Hooper, Norman Stone, Bruce Stires, and Charles Wesley.

Garland Butler's team won first place and Jack Bonds and Billy Carl Martin, second and third place respectively.

Miss Elva Fronabarger, grade school principal, was out of school Friday due to illness.



Uh-huh, it looks like the young men's and young women's fancy has turned to other than scholastic directions, as spring predicts each year. Read further for explanation.

Betty Brown and J. Spencer Winn got kind of chummy during senior play practice.

Marilyn Small and Donnell Ruthart, two seventh graders, are starting off kinda early.

The following were seen riding around Sunday afternoon: Ellen Sanders and Don Standley; Mary Ann Bellah and Charles Taylor.

Donal Iverson and Sue Ann Colwell seemed to have a pretty good time at the senior play Friday night. I wonder what they went to the Post Office afterwards for! Kinda dark in there, isn't it?

Those crossed fingers really help one to remember his part in a play, don't they Harley?

Don't tell anyone, but I hear that those senior girls are buying lots of material and lace for those new spring graduatin' formals.

Regent Josey Dies at Home in Houston

J. E. Josey, a member of West Texas State College Board of Regents since 1933, died at his home in Houston Thursday.

President J. A. Hill left Thursday night to attend the funeral services which were held at Huntsville Friday afternoon.

Mr. Josey, one of Texas' outstanding newspaper men, had been vitally interested in the educational problems of Texas for many years and during the time he served on the Board of Regents he was a large contributor to the solution of the problems of the groups of colleges he served. Had he lived his term of office would have continued until 1947.

Charlie Harris, veteran newspaper man of Fort Worth, who wears a cap and writes articles on a 25-year-old portable typewriter, used to work on a newspaper in St. Louis and there he picked up several stories about the immortal Eugene Field, author of "Little Boy Blue."

Field, like some newspaper reporters and since, was slow pay. He bought a hat from Hart, the Hatter, and when repeated bills brought no response, the creditor at last wrote a footnote on the statement, "I hope you will pay this." Field returned the bill after scrawling this line, "Hope on, dear Hart, hope on."

Many a Field fan would be willing to pay several times the price of that hat just to get the note, if it is still in existence.

The incident calls to mind the American who wrote to Rudyard Kipling, "I understand you are the highest-paid writer in the world and that you receive $1 a word. Enclosed is $1; please send me a word." Kipling complied with the one word, "Thanks."

That note, too, would bring a fancy price today.

On the subject of pay for literary productions, your columnist in one afternoon pounded out an article on the Ranger oil boom and sold it to the Saturday Evening Post for $750. Later computation showed the pay was at the rate of $1.56 a minute, on the basis of the time it took to write the article, which—appropriately enough—was entitled "It Was Fun While It Lasted."

Mark Twain was riding on a crowded street car one day in Paris and, when the car stopped suddenly, the American author stepped on a Frenchman's foot. The Frenchman felt himself offended and he said, "Sir, consider yourself slapped in the face and challenged to a duel." Twain replied, "Sir, consider yourself shot three times through the heart."

Did you know that Abraham Lincoln, when a young man, was challenged to a duel? As the challenged party, he had the right to choose the weapons, which he did. Abe said, "I choose Irish potatoes at 100 yards." This caused a laugh and there was no duel.

"Can I be of service to you?" inquired the polite shop-walker. "I don't know," replied the perturbed young man. "I was told to stop in here and buy either a camisole or a casserole, and for the life of me I can't remember which."

"Well," said the shop-walker, "if you will tell me what kind of a chicken you propose to put in it, perhaps I can help you."

Sam: A collision, of course.

Waiter: May I help you from that soup, sir?

Patron: What do you mean, help me from the soup?

McCarty of Amarillo, Regent Newton Harrell of Claude, Raymond Thompson of Vega and David Warren of Panhandle, all members of the Board. Cecil Winder, ex-student of Vega, also made the trip. Arrangements had been made by Mr. Warren.

Other towns will be visited during the spring.

Egotism is the anesthetic which nature gives us to deaden the pain of being a fool.—Dr. Herbert Shofield.

Phillips has played a major part in "achieving the almost impossible"

THE DEADLY STING of the new Douglas A-26 Invader, already felt in Germany, will soon hit Japan. On all of the world's flying fronts, United Nations planes fight with Phillips high-octane fuels.

AVIATION GASOLINE, one of the indispensable munitions of war, was an item with very small production at the beginning of World War II.

The recent situation, however, is best described in the official words of the Special Sub-Committee on Petroleum Investigation, of the House of Representatives:

"The United States has achieved the almost impossible by stepping up its daily production (of 100-octane fuel) from 45,000 barrels in December 1941 to more than 500,000 barrels. In the meantime, a remarkable improvement has been accomplished in the quality of the 100-octane product."

Of those who have contributed to this triumph of production, Phillips is especially proud of its record in having maintained its leading position with the handful of petroleum organizations which are the nation's largest producers of high-octane aviation fuel.

Everything that Phillips has learned, in research and experience, both before and during the war, will be lavishly poured into our wonderfully improved postwar motor fuels for car owners. With complete confidence, we say to you: Expect greater postwar gasolines from Phillips!

In the meantime, every time you see the Orange and Black Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries . . . in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils...are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

Telephone high lights of 1944

Our annual report, issued in March, showed 1944 was a busy year. There were more long distance calls than ever before, including thousands of war calls to rush through each day for the army, the navy, and the scores of war industries in our territory.

The demand for telephones was heavy. Service qualifying as essential under government requirements was installed promptly. Other new telephones were installed where instruments, lines, and central office equipment were available.

But still we had a big waiting list. It grew throughout the year because almost all new telephone equipment went to the armed services. At the year's end 187,000 persons were on our waiting list for telephones.

For those who had telephones we did virtually a prewar job of supplying service. Three out of every four long distance calls went through while the calling parties "held the line." Local service stood up well. The public helped by keeping calls brief and making only necessary calls.

In the eight army general hospitals in the five states served by this company, special equipment was installed to help the wounded and sick soldiers with their telephoning. Attendants were on hand in most army camps and naval stations to help service men and women call home.

On the money side, we didn't do so well. Of course, revenues were up—10 per cent over 1943. But operating costs and taxes climbed even faster—they rose 11 per cent. The return on the company's investment in telephone property was 4.34 per cent—lower than in 1933, the worst depression year.

As long as the fighting goes on, war demands will be met first. But telephone users here at home can depend on the fact that, even in wartime, this company will bend every effort to give them the best service possible.
